Anthony Edward represents clients in a wide range of civil litigation matters, focusing on personal injury litigation, trucking and automobile accidents, premises liability, products liability, and construction defect cases.

As an experienced trial attorney, he has represented several hundred clients in injury claims, served on the Dean's Advisory Board during law school, and clerked on a petition for a writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court of the United States.

With his diverse legal experience, working at a large personal injury law firm, and background in mediation and conflict resolution, Anthony excels at finding practical, effective solutions to difficult disputes. His strengths lie in his analytical skills, ability to simplify complex issues, and commitment to achieving the best possible outcomes, which enable him to save time, reduce stress, and ensure that his legal strategy aligns with the broader personal or business objectives of his clients.

Anthony is a passionate advocate for fairness and protecting the rights of his clients. Whether navigating high-stakes disputes or guiding clients through preventative strategies, he approaches each case with determination, integrity, and the goal of delivering meaningful results.

His philosophy centers on collaboration and trust—he believes that the attorney-client relationship works best when clients feel supported and empowered in every decision.
