Dawn's work as an effective and no-nonsense litigator has earned her a loyal following of national and Hawaii-based clients. Impressed by Dawn's ability to get to the crux of a case, clients take comfort in having Dawn help them navigate them through the discovery, trial, post-trial phases of a case, as well any appeal. Her skill as a litigator as well as her track record with winning trial teams make her a client favorite. Dawn handles premises liability work for some of the largest retailers in the country.

Dawn is efficient: she has to be. As a mother of two boys involved in football and soccer, and as a volunteer and board member for several community organizations, she has no time to waste. That efficiency carries over to her work: she's laser-focused on the most cost-effective path to reach the best outcome for her clients. Her clients appreciate that.
