Wesley Wells represents clients in insurance defense, coverage matters, and general civil litigation. He handles all stages of litigation, including investigation, pleadings, motion practice, discovery, depositions, and early resolution efforts.

He brings experience as a liability and medical claims adjuster, allowing him to evaluate risk, analyze coverage, and defend first- and third-party claims, including complex liability and premises matters. He has worked directly with insureds, attorneys, and corporate representatives on coverage evaluations, loss investigations, and settlement negotiations.

He supported litigation and transactional teams across multiple jurisdictions during law school and is committed to clear communication, efficient strategy, and favorable results.
