512-703-5042

Yvette Medina is a zealous advocate committed to delivering innovative, client-focused legal solutions. She has successfully represented and defended a Fortune 500 realtor in premises liability and related claims, drawing on her deep understanding of complex litigation.

Before transitioning to defense work, Yvette practiced as a plaintiff's personal injury attorney, gaining invaluable insight into the strategies and motivations of opposing counsel. This dual perspective allows her to anticipate challenges and craft effective, strategic defenses that protect her clients' interests.

Representative Experience

Obtained dismissal of a case against a homeowner's association by arguing the Plaintiff was unable to demonstrate that the HOA acted in an arbitrary and capricious manner.

Drafted winning appellate brief in a Special Immigrant Juvenile Status case which resulted in a juvenile being allowed to remain in the United States legally.
